

2023 UN SDG Summit

18 - 19 September 2023 | UN Headquarters, New York City | Official Website

What is it?

The 2023 SDG Summit will take place on 18-19 September 2023 in New York. It will mark the beginning of a new phase of accelerated progress towards the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) with high-level political guidance on transformative and accelerated actions leading up to 2030.

Convened by the President of the UN General Assembly, the Summit marks the half-way point to the deadline set by the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development for achieving the Sustainable Development Goals. It will be the centerpiece of the High-level Week of the UN General Assembly. The “Summiteers” will have to effectively address the impact of multiple and interlocking global crises and reignite a sense of hope, optimism, and enthusiasm for the 2030 Agenda.

Issues at hand

According to the 2023 Special Edition of the SDG Progress Report, approximately 140 targets with data shows that only about 12 per cent are on track; 30 per cent have either seen no movement or regressed below the 2015 baseline.

Confronted with the priority to “rescue” the SDGs, the S-G has proposed an SDG Stimulus of “\$500 billion US dollars per year for investments in sustainable development and climate action” that “provide support to countries of the Global South, including the vulnerable middle-income ones”. This plan has been a point of contention during the negotiations on the Summit’s Political Declaration, with some Member States deeming it as essential with others not convinced..

Financing has been an overarching theme in the negotiations, with the Global South emphasizing as critical the adequate and non-debt generating financing for the full range of challenges from implementing the 2030 Agenda to fighting the climate crisis.

“At the mid-way point of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, it is time to face the facts. Without a surge in commitment, solidarity, and transformative action, we will miss the headline targets of the 2030 Agenda to end poverty, reduce inequality and protect the environment. The Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) Summit to be held in September 2023 provides a unique opportunity to fundamentally change course. I count on your support to ensure it delivers the breakthroughs our world desperately needs.” S-G’s Letter to All Heads of State and Government

“During the #SDGSummit civil society will convene for its own meeting across the UN building, the Global #PeoplesAssembly, to provide its perspective & remind world leaders of their promises” @democracywithoutborders

Political Declaration for SDG Summit

Here are some excerpts from the declaration (as of 1 September 2023):

"We commit to accelerate the full implementation of the Addis Ababa Action Agenda and to take further actions to scale up financing for sustainable development, and provide means of implementation for developing countries, including the following:

- i. ... ensure significant mobilization of resources from a variety of sources, including through enhanced development cooperation, strengthening the capacity to mobilize domestic resources and private sector investment...
- ii. We urge developed countries to scale up and fulfill their respective ODA commitments...
- iii. We call for improved international debt mechanisms to support debt review, debt payment suspensions, and debt restructuring ... We recognize the importance of new and emerging challenges and vulnerabilities in regard to developing country external and domestic debt sustainability
- iv. We welcome the Secretary-General's efforts to address the SDG financing gap through an SDG stimulus...
- v. We call for scaling up debt swaps for SDGs...while recognizing that debt swaps cannot replace broader debt treatments in unsustainable debt situations...
- vi. We recommit to preventing and combating illicit financial flows and strengthening international cooperation and good practices on assets return and recovery
- vii. We call for an urgent voluntary re-channeling of Special Drawing Rights to countries most in need, including through multilateral development banks...
- viii. We support reform of international financial architecture... The international financial architecture, including its business models and financing capacities, must be made more fit for purpose, equitable and responsive to the financing needs of developing countries...
- ix. We urge multilateral development banks to bring forward actions to mobilize and provide additional financing within their mandates to support developing countries to achieve the SDGs... including through securing increases to grants and concessional finance, better leveraging their capital bases and considering ways for the respective boards of the MDBs to increase their capitalization and encourage dialogue between multilateral development banks and other financial institutions.
- x. We recommit to the promotion of a universal, rules-based, non-discriminatory, open, fair, inclusive, equitable and transparent multilateral trading system, with the World Trade Organization (WTO) at its core, as well as meaningful trade liberalization...
- xi. We confirm our political commitment to explore measures of progress on sustainable development that complement or go beyond gross domestic product...
- xii. We encourage the international community to consider multidimensional vulnerability, including the potential use of a multidimensional vulnerability index, as criteria to access concessional finance.
- xiii. ...to the deliberations on convening a fourth international conference on financing for development in 2025.
- xiv. We look forward to the beginning of inter-governmental discussions in New York at United Nations Headquarters on ways to strengthen the inclusiveness and effectiveness of international tax cooperation."
